

Wainscott Weekly

October 28, 2016

This week has been just as busy as the rest. The students have been studying animals and their environments including the differences of living and non-living organisms. During reading we have been learning about Bats and some of the traits they have while the second graders have read about animals and the ways in which they build their homes. In Social Studies we have scratched the surface on the early lives of the colonists and started to talk about the Declaration of Independence and revolutionary war. This has helped them get more involved in the lessons. Next week we will be celebrating Halloween with some Halloween based activities and a parade after lunch. We will also have a visit from the fire marshall to discuss fire safety in the home. On Thursday we will return to the Westhampton Performing Arts theater to see their performance of "The Ugly Duckling."

Hopefully you were all pleased with the children's progress reports. I have been very impressed with the effort I am seeing and I look forward to the rest of the school year. Have a most wonderful weekend.

-Mark

The students had a terrific week. We used our imagination to create silly, scary, or funny monsters and then we used our writing skills to describe them. We talked about adjectives and how we can use many different adjectives to describe our creatures. We learned about Halloween safety from Officer Kim and McGruff. The students came up with a list of important rules to keep everyone safe this Halloween. In Science we began a unit on our environment and how all the plants animals and living things co-exist and help each other. We had a great visit to East Hampton Library. The students love to take out books, so if you have not yet given us a library card please do so for our next trip. On Monday we will have our Halloween Parade down Main Street beginning at 12:30pm. I hope to see you there. Next week's homework will be a little different so please check folders.

Have a wonderful weekend and a safe Halloween!

Kelly

UPCOMING EVENTS

- October 31st: Halloween Parade @ 12:30 pm
- November 3rd: Field Trip to WHBPAC
- November 8th: No School - Supt. Conference Day
- November 11th: No School - Veterans Day

Students of the Week

Carmen McCulley

and

Emma Hand

