

Wainscott Weekly

December 9, 2016

This week has been full of some great learning activities. During ELA we have focused on folktales, and learning lessons or morals that the authors are trying to teach us. The students have shown some success with this. In Math we have been studying addition, and multiplication. The students have shown that they are learning their facts, please remind them to keep practicing. Social Studies has been a lot of fun for both myself and Mrs. Yusko. We are learning about the Christmas holiday in nations all around the world. It has been interesting for the kids and they are starting to gain some great information about these different cultures. Please ask them about the countries they are studying and maybe have them share with you how different all of the countries really are.

Report cards have been made available on the parent portal and may be printed for you if need be. Hopefully I will see all of you next week for conferences. The conferences will be on Monday and Tuesday from 11:30- 3:00. Conferences are on a first come first serve basis. If there are any questions or concerns this will be a wonderful opportunity for us to discuss them. I hope that you all have an excellent weekend!

-Mark

What a great start to the month of December. The students learned about the traditions of Christmas in Australia. They were amazed to learn that Australians spend time at the beach during Christmas as it is summer there. We compared our US Christmas traditions to Australia. We will continue to explore different countries in the next couple of weeks. We are also practicing for our Holiday Sing to be performed on December 23rd at 11:00am. In Reading the first graders are reading a folktale about how a leopard got his spots. We will write our own stories on how Santa got his beard. In math we worked adding three numbers. The Kindergarteners are working with CVC words with a short /a/ words. Please practice sight words daily. In math we are working on numbers 0-30 and comparing as "greater than" and "less than". It will be a great few weeks of learning fun.

Have a great weekend.

Kelly

Students of the Week

Gabby Ponce

and

Daniel Lupercio

NEXT WEEK

Monday December 12th and Tuesday December 13th:

11:00 am Dismissal for Parent-Teacher Conferences

Wednesday, December 14th - Gym - Tennis

Friday, December 16th - East Hampton Library Visit

